People sometimes ask who suppose to receive communion or can anybody who joins us at Mass receive regardless of their religion. At other times people ask when should one refrain from receiving communion. According to USCCB, "in order to receive Holy Communion we must be in communion with God and with the Church. Mortal sin constitutes a rejection of communion with God and destroys the life of grace within us.

Mortal sin is an act violating God's law that involves a grave matter and that is performed with both full knowledge and complete consent of the will. If we are no longer in the state of grace because of mortal sin, we are seriously obliged to refrain from receiving Holy Communion until we are reconciled with God and the Church. While we remain members of the body of Christ and continue to be part of the Catholic Church, we have become lifeless or dead members. We no longer share in the common bond of the divine life of the Holy Spirit.

Because our sin has separated us from God and from our brothers and sisters in Christ, we have forfeited our right to receive Holy Communion, for the Eucharist, by its very nature, expresses and nurtures this life-giving unity that the sinner has now lost. St. Paul warned the Corinthians that "whoever eats the bread or drinks the cup of the Lord unworthily will have to answer for the body and blood of the Lord" (1 Cor 11:27). Manifesting the Father's mercy, Jesus instituted the Sacrament of Penance precisely to allow us to confess our sins in repentance, receive absolution from the priest, and so receive again the grace of the Holy Spirit, who once more makes us living."

-Fr. Abuchi (continued from last week).

A weekend experience creates a special bond and climate among the retreatants and allows the time to relax and recharge; however, if someone is unable to make the entire weekend, there is a possibility of coming on Saturday only. The registration form can be found at sacredheartspiritualitycenter.org. Please call 973-383-2620 or email shretreatcenter@gmail.com for more information.
